

EVT Enterprise Ltd

Company profile

The company's own profile puts its position simply: EVT is a supplier of products widely used in the home and in industry, working on long term business with customers in North America and Asia, and used to customers who arrive with drawings and material specifications rather than with a vague brief.

Most of what EVT supplies is exported to Canada, the United States and Western Europe, including Germany, France, Italy, Norway, Finland and Switzerland.

The company describes years of experience working with Chinese supplier factories and a settled group of manufacturing partners built up over that time. Those factories include plants registered to ISO 9001, and one certified to ISO/TS 16949 for automotive components, which brings a documentation discipline that carries over to everything else on the floor.

What EVT does between the buyer and the factory

Sourcing

Matching an enquiry to the factory base that already runs that product, rather than to whichever factory is cheapest this month.

Development

Turning a drawing, a spec sheet or a competitor sample into an approved physical reference sample that both sides hold.

Quality Control

Checking production against that retained reference sample, before the line runs on and throughout the run.

Packing And Export

Verifying inner and outer counts, carton marks and barcodes, consolidating several factories into one shipment and issuing the documents from the UK.

Product groups

Bath (3 products)

Certification

The manufacturing partners behind this catalogue include plants registered to ISO 9001, and one certified to ISO/TS 16949 for automotive components.

The certifications above are held by the manufacturing partners rather than by EVT Enterprise Ltd, and current certificates are confirmed per order. A certificate issued in a previous year proves nothing about the line running today.
