Frequently Asked Questions

Can rope goods ship together with the metal hardware

Yes. Rope, hardware and grills are consolidated into the same shipment, which is the main reason buyers take both ranges from us.

What is the difference between double braided and three strand dock line

Three strand twisted line stretches more and absorbs snatch loads, which many owners prefer for mooring. Double braided line is smoother in the hand, holds its shape and looks better on a finished boat.

What length of spliced eye do the dock lines have

The dock lines are supplied with a 12 inch spliced eye.

Are the tent ropes reflective along the whole length

The reflective tracer runs through the braid along the full length of the rope.

Can we get our own colours on rope products

Colour is OEM on these items. Send your colour reference and the quantity per colour and we will quote against that.
