Who This Category Is For

Electric motor rebuilders, gearbox and reducer OEMs, traction and generator service shops.

The Problem It Solves

Full complement and double row types in the F- and Z- series used on gear units and traction motors are rarely stocked outside the original equipment channel.

Core Technical Advantage

Line contact between roller and raceway gives a much higher radial rating than a ball bearing of the same size; separable designs also allow the shaft and housing to be mounted independently.

Typical Applications

- Electric motors and generators
- Gear units and speed reducers
- Traction motors and rail drives
- Machine tool headstocks
- Vibrating equipment and crushers
